Amended
of the Indian
Army Act
VII of 1914.

It is now No. 242 of the Second Schedule to the Indian Tariff Act, 1914, to the effect as the second schedule the following proviso shall be added, VIII of 1914.

"Provided that mechanical lighters as defined in the Mechanical Lighters (Home Duty) Act, 1911, shall be liable in relation to a duty equal to the amount of the home duty imposed by that Act on mechanical lighters manufactured in British India."

STATEMENT OF DEBTS AND RECEIPTS.

There is a serious danger that, with the imposition of a small home duty on machines, there will be an uncontrolled development of the use of mechanical lighters. This would mean a loss of duty and expenditure with the business of the Indian match manufacturing industry. It is therefore proposed that an appropriate home duty should be imposed on mechanical lighters and that the machine duty should be correspondingly reduced. There is not, as yet, any established industry in the manufacture of mechanical lighters in India.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The main purpose of this Bill is to amend the Indian Army Act, 1911, in order to provide for the changes in the constitution of the Indian Army rendered necessary by the progressive development of the Defence Forces of India.

A new class of Indian officer commissioned from the Indian Military Academy is about to appear. These officers, when it is proposed to designate "Indian commissioned officers," will possess with respect to the Indian Army all the powers and privileges of the British officers whom they will gradually replace.

The British officers of the Indian Army are subject to a British Statute, the Army Act (34 and 35 Vict., c. 50), while the Indian personnel of the Indian Army, by virtue of section 112, sub-section (1), of the Army Act and section 45 (1) (d) of the Government of India Act, is subject to the provisions of the Indian Army Act. It is now proposed to amend the Indian Army Act that complete provision for the whole Indian personnel of the Indian Army, including the new class of officers, shall be contained in the Indian Army Act, in the same way that provision for the Indian Air Force is contained in the Indian Air Force Act, 1912.

In order to distinguish the new class of officers from the officers at present designated "Indian officers" in the Act it is proposed that the officers at present designated "Indian officers" shall in future be known as "Young's commissioned officers."

The opportunity presented by this Bill has been utilized to introduce certain minor amendments throughout the Act.

New clause,
The 4th April 1934

G. B. F. TOTTERHAM.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

Clause 3 (K).—Indian commissioned officers will be treated in the same lines as British officers as regards punishment, promotion or removal from the service. Each clause in 3 (L), 14 (N), (O), (P), (Q) and (J), 15, 16, 19 and 20 make the necessary provision for this purpose.

Clause 4.—Definitions of the two classes of Indian officer have been introduced in section 2, and the definition of "British officer" has been revised. Each clause in 2, 3 (N), 4, 5, 8, 10, 14 (M), 21, 41A, gives effect to the necessary consequential changes throughout the Act.

Clause 5.—This amendment clarifies the intention of section 19.

Clause 6.—The amendment of section 12 provides for the dismissal of any person subject to the Act by the Governor General in Council and the dismissal of any person other than an Indian commissioned officer by the Commander-in-Chief in India. An Indian commissioned officer will hold commissions signed on behalf of His Majesty by the Governor General, the power of dismissing such officers will be delegated to the Governor General by the Ministry.

Clause 8, 11 (K), (L), (M), (N), (O), (P), 27, 28, 29 and 30 make the necessary provision for the punishment and protection of warrant officers subject to the Act.

Clause 12.—This amendment is consequential on the introduction of a new section 11 A (vide clause 41).

Clause 13 and 22.—Following the policy adopted in the Indian Air Force Act (Act XIV of 1933), section 42 is amended so as to enable all such officers mentioned by paragraph 2 of the Act to be tried by a court-martial with the exception of officers of warrant or military rank mentioned in paragraph 2 of the Act, and of men. These officers will only be liable by a court-martial if constituted an ad hoc service or on certain frontier posts to be notified by the Governor General in Council.

Clause 15.—Pension provisions from the pay of Indian commissioned officers have been provided for by this amendment. The new sub-section (1) of section 20, as now amended, will follow almost exactly the provisions of section 127 of the Army Act, which deals with deductions from the pay of British officers. Clause (2) of the proposed sub-section is consequential by the terms of section 43 of the Act and is intended to cover such forfeitures as those referred to in clause (1) and (2) of that section.

Clause 16, 21 and 31.—Provision is here made for the appointment of Indian commissioned officers on general, summary ground and district courts and so.

As the general and summary ground courts-martial under the Act will now have power to try Indian commissioned officers, whereas previously they have had no power to try any person of higher rank than an Indian officer, a period of three years' commissioned service has been required to qualify an officer to sit on a general court-martial. This follows the corresponding provision in section 44 (3) of the Army Act.

Clause 23, 24, 25, 26, 27 and 28 introduce consequential changes made necessary by the amendment of section 21 by clause 20.

Clause 29, 32 and 33 are consequential on the omission of section 42 by clause 13.

Clause 34.—The changes here made are intended to enable the responsible officer to receive necessary witnesses for military inquiries, as well as for courts-martial.

Clause 35, 36 and 37.—It is proposed to remove the present restriction whereby all single appointments in the armed services are subject to the approval of the Government. This restriction would be extremely undesirable in the case of an Indian commissioned officer as warrant-officer.

Clause 40 and 41.—The right of Indian commissioned officers to complain to the Governor General in Council has been speedily restored by the new section 11A.
